Dear Representative,

On behalf of The Leadership Conference on Civil and Human Rights, a coalition charged by its diverse membership of more than 240 national organizations to promote and protect the rights of all persons in the United States, our Census Task Force co-chairs, Asian Americans Advancing Justice | AAJC and NALEO Educational Fund, and the undersigned organizations, we urge you to vote NO on H.R. 151, the Equal Representation Act. This bill threatens the integrity of the 2030 Census, violates clear constitutional mandates, and would distort congressional representation, federal funding decisions, the fair allocation of political power, and the essential data that communities rely on for planning schools, hospitals, infrastructure, emergency services, and civil rights enforcement for the next decade and beyond.

H.R. 151 would discourage census response, resulting in misallocation of federal funding and poor data quality to protect civil rights, determine fair political representation, and public and private sector planning. First, H.R. 151 would require the Census Bureau to add a citizenship and immigration status question to the decennial census questionnaire. This new question would discourage many households, especially those with immigrants and mixed immigration status,¹ from responding fully and accurately out of fear, anxiety, or confusion about how their information might be used. Furthermore, the resulting undercount would have adverse consequences well beyond immigrant families. All communities depend on accurate census data not only to secure their fair share of more than $2.8 trillion each year in federal funding for schools, hospitals, infrastructure, emergency services, and more, but also to plan local services, guide business investment, enforce civil rights protections, and ensure fair political representation at every level of government. An inaccurate count affects everyone and every community.

H.R. 151 is an unlawful effort to undermine the constitutional mandate to count all residents for reapportionment. Second, H.R. 151 seeks to fundamentally alter how congressional seats are apportioned by excluding noncitizens from the population totals used for reapportionment. This proposal directly conflicts with the Constitution's 14th Amendment, which clearly requires that House seats be allocated based on the whole number of persons residing in each state, not just citizens. The framers of the 14th Amendment explicitly considered and rejected limiting apportionment to citizens alone, choosing instead to guarantee fair representation for every person living in the United States.

Attempting to override this constitutional requirement by statute is unlawful and would require a constitutional amendment, not the passage of this misguided legislation.

Together, these provisions would suppress census participation, distort population counts, and silence entire communities. An inaccurate census would weaken the fairness and effectiveness of our democracy and divert critical resources away from where they are needed most. These consequences would harm everyone, regardless of citizenship and where they live, and undermine our nation's ability to make informed policy decisions.

At a time when trust in government and our democratic institutions is already fragile, Congress must protect the scientific integrity, constitutional foundation, and nonpartisan nature of the census, not politicize it. We urge you to support a fair and accurate count, defend our Constitution's requirement, and ensure that every person is counted and every community has a voice.

For these reasons, we strongly urge you to reject this harmful legislation and vote NO on H.R. 151.

Thank you for your leadership and your commitment to safeguarding the promise of equal representation for all. If you have any questions, please contact Meeta Anand, senior director of the census and data equity program at The Leadership Conference on Civil and Human Rights, at anand@civilrights.org.

Sincerely,

The Leadership Conference on Civil and Human Rights
